

At Home
with RWC

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

March 10, 2017

CONTACT

LuAnne Davis

804-438-4175

ldavis@rw-c.org

Six graduate from Personal Care Aide Training Class

At Home with RWC adds new full-time employees

IRVINGTON, Va. – Six women graduated this week from At Home with RWC’s Personal Care Aide Training Class and are now undergoing a two-week orientation including shadowing other At Home with RWC caregivers. Afterwards, they will be assigned to clients on the Rappahannock Westminster-Canterbury campus, as well as in private homes in the Northern Neck, Middle Peninsula and beyond.

About At Home with RWC

At Home with RWC is a service of Rappahannock Westminister-Canterbury and maintains the RWC mission of service excellence provided to all for whom we have the privilege of caring.

Photo cutline: Six women graduated this week from At Home with RWC’s Personal Care Aide Training Class and are now undergoing a two-week orientation including shadowing other caregivers. Personal Care Aide Training graduates and their hometowns include (seated, left to right) Judy Swann, Kilmarnock; Pinkie Holmes, Saluda and Desiree Selph, Lancaster and (standing) Brigitte Lee, Reedville; and Kimberly Verlander, Kilmarnock and Joyce Greer, Callao.

###